April 29, 2015

Need a good excuse to eat out? This Thursday, April 30, marks Dining Out for Life 2015, a national event in which participating restaurants donate a percentage of the daily proceeds to AIDS service organizations and HIV-related causes.

More than 3,000 restaurants in 60 cities take part in the annual events. Each year, Dining Out for Life raises nearly $4 million. Click here to find a participating restaurant near you.

This year’s event is sponsored by Subaru and includes celebrity spokespeople Ted Allen from TV’s Chopped, actress Pam Grier (Foxy Brown), chef Daisy Martinez and Project Runway designer Mondo Guerra.

To raise awareness of the Dining Out for Life events, Guerra designed a Love Responsibly Subaru. Check it out in the clip above.
