Texas Woman Killed by Boyfriend Because She Had HIV

September 12, 2012

A Texas man stabbed his girlfriend to death because she allegedly did not disclose she had HIV before having sex with him, KDAF reports. Larry Dunn is being held in the Dallas County Jail on a murder charge for killing Cicely Bolden. His bail is set at $500,000. Dunn told police, “She killed me, so I killed her.” However, Bolden’s family and friends dispute Dunn’s assertion that she had not disclosed her HIV-positive status before sex, KDFW reports. They claim that she was open about her status. A follow up KDAF article reports that Dunn has not yet taken an HIV test.
