National African Immigrant and Refugee HIV/AIDS and Hepatitis Awareness Day 2024

10 things to know about #NAIRHHADay and addressing HIV, AIDS and hepatitis B inequities among African immigrant communities in the U.S.

September 9, 2024 By Trent Straube

Monday, September 9, is National African Immigrant and Refugee HIV/AIDS and Hepatitis Awareness Day (#NAIRHHADay) 2024. This year marks the 10th anniversary of the event. It is a chance to address HIV, AIDS and hepatitis B inequities among African immigrant communities in the United States and to advocate for resources and funding to foster healthier communities.

An African proverb says “Not to know is bad. Not to wish to know is worse.” Knowledge is power! Be your own best...

This year’s NAIRHHA Day includes a webinar at 4 p.m. ET September 9 titled “Addressing HIV/AIDS & Hepatitis B Inequities among African Immigrant Communities in the US: A Conversation with State and Local Partners.”

The description of the event reads:

> “To honor the tenth anniversary of National African Immigrant & Refugee HIV/AIDS & Hepatitis Awareness (NAIRHHA) Day, we are hosting a webinar that will feature a conversation with representatives from state and local health departments from around the country who work in cities and states with the largest communities of African immigrants. Panelists will discuss steps they have taken to center the needs of these communities & what remains to be done to ensure that the serious health disparities of hepatitis B and HIV/AIDS are addressed in a culturally appropriate way for African immigrant communities. We hope you can join us!”

NAIRHHA Day is led by the Hepatitis B Foundation, the Africans For Improved Access program at the Multicultural AIDS Coalition and the Coalition Against Hepatitis for People of African Origin

(CHIPO).

“We aim to bring both national and local attention to the highly prevalent health issues of HIV/AIDS and viral hepatitis in the African immigrant and refugee population in the United States in a way that is culturally and linguistically appropriate,” write the organizers. “NAIRHHA Day provides a way for organizations, communities, families and individuals to:

- Raise awareness about HIV/AIDS and viral hepatitis to eliminate stigma;
- Learn about ways to protect against HIV, viral hepatitis and other related diseases;
- Take control by encouraging screenings and treatment, including viral hepatitis vaccination;
- Advocate for policies and practices that promote healthy African immigrant communities, families and individuals.”
