

World Arthritis Day 2011

October 12, 2011

Wednesday, October 12, is World Arthritis Day. This awareness day was established in 1996 to focus attention on the needs of people living with rheumatic and musculoskeletal diseases around the globe. “Move to improve” is this year’s theme.

According to U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Kathleen Sebelius, one in five U.S. adults lives with arthritis. Sebelius urges all Americans to learn simple steps to prevent arthritis, such as regular physical activity.
